Hydraulics & Pneumatics THE JOURNAL OF FLUID POWER AND SYSTEMS

Hydraulics & Pneumatics

Hydraulics & Pneumatics is the UK's only niche magazine for fluid power & systems buyers and users within industrial sectors including offshore oil & gas, aerospace, agriculture and construction.

The journal offers the most comprehensive updates on current developments concerning fluid power/motion control through the latest news, technical articles, topical opinion, in-depth interviews, new products and end user-focused application stories.

All aspects of hydraulic and pneumatic power, actuation and automation are addressed, along with compressed air generation and supply – plus relevant instrumentation, systems control and monitoring.

The journal's breadth of hydraulics scope covers everything from pumps, motors and accumulators to hose fittings and fluid analysis kits. With regard to pneumatics, everything from actuators and air motors to seals and bowel islands and a range of related accessories are regularly surveyed. And compressed air receives similarly comprehensive treatment; industrial and portable air compressors, their treatment, hose-related products and services, and much more are put under the spotlight.

The publication also provides useful help and guidance on issues such as maintenance, repair & refurbishment, condition monitoring, energy efficiency, training and health & safety. In addition, the journal publishes the Annual Hydraulics & Pneumatics Buyers' Guide; an unrivalled sourcing & procurement aid for fluid power systems, components and services.

Hydraulics & Pneumatics magazine has strong links with leading trade associations the British Fluid Power Association (BFPA) and the British Compressed Air Society (BCAS). Moreover, Hydraulics & Pneumatics magazine owner DFA Media is also the official publisher of the BFPA and BCAS Yearbooks and Members' Directories, copies of which are distributed once a year together with Hydraulics & Pneumatics magazine.
